Executive Summary – Q1 2021

NAV growth c.6.6% over the period

- NAV rose 6.6%^{1,2} in the period, which was less than the NSCI +AIM ex IC index (“Comparator”) which rose 9.9%^{2,3}
 - OIT NAV broadly in line with Comparator Index excluding Retail, Travel & Leisure
 - Net cash averaged 7% over the quarter, ending at c.11%
 - Approaching OIT’s third anniversary since IPO, NAV return since inception of 42% vs 20% for comparator index
- Q1 market performance driven by Retail, Travel and Leisure sectors, which accounted for 11% of the Comparator Index at the start of 2021. We do not invest in these sectors
 - These consumer sectors delivered 3.2% points (or c.1/3) of the Comparator Index return
 - We believe that many of the stocks in these sectors are pricing in CY2022 recovery/material upgrades now
- Portfolio
 - Trading updates have been positive
 - One new “toehold” position made during the period
 - Profits taken in a number of more highly rated holdings which have doubled over the past two years (point to point)
- We remain positive on the medium to long term potential from the portfolio companies due to a blend of reasonably priced growth, self help potential and prospects for value creation from M&A
- OIT’s shares ended the period trading at c.7.4% discount to NAV of 139.3p^{1,2}. Discount has narrowed post the end of the period
- Shareholders approved the change in OIT’s investment policies and enhanced ESG investment approach

Investment strategy recap – neither growth nor value

Based on 3 pillars: Valuation, Quality and Engagement, with Sector focus

Valuation

- Invest at a significant discount to owner's valuation
- Look for businesses with multiple drivers of equity value growth (sales; margin; rating; free cashflow; M&A)
- “Make money”, not beat an index

Quality

- Strict quality overlay to complement value focus
- “Good companies”
- Limit downside

Engagement

- Seek out “self-help” /transformation situations
- Integrated
- Proactive not reactive
- Tend to engage anyway as a Top 5 shareholder

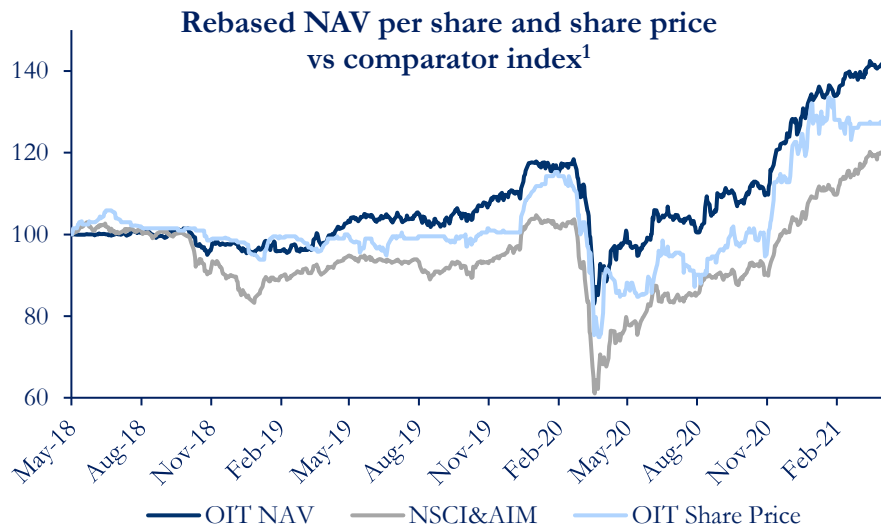

- We aim to make money (target >15% IRR on every investment) with a favourable risk/reward
- Sector focus (TMT, Healthcare, Industrials, Services)

Performance update – approaching 3 year track record

Performance drivers in Q1 2021

Key stock contributors

Largest positive contributors

- A strong set of interim results drove upgrades. Showed record organic growth of 7.5% and margins of over 21%
- Good near-term momentum in the business and strong mid-term environmental drivers support ongoing performance. Shares are up c.140% since September and now enjoy a full p/e rating

- A positive AGM statement flagged strong performance in Q1, following on from an in-line full year FY20 performance
- We see scope for COVID recovery to come at RWS and crucially see significantly more synergies from the combination with SDL than the c.£15m so far announced. We look to an update on these synergies in the coming weeks

- An in-line H1 showed underlying progress with revenue growth guidance for FY21 at the top end of management's range offsetting mix and FX profit headwinds
- We continue to be excited by Clinigen's mix of COVID recovery potential, new product opportunities and management driven self-help, all available at a currently undemanding rating

Flat performers / Largest negative contributors

- A broadly positive AGM statement flagged trading remained as expected but shares have retreated from recent highs on FX concerns (USD exposure)
- Chemring remains a high quality business with strong positions in growth markets, unique IP and a management team delivering on repositioning the business into higher quality revenue areas

- Vectura delivered FY20 results ahead of initial expectations and announced a £115m capital return following receipt of litigation proceeds – despite this shares drifted down from December highs
- If executed well, Vectura's ongoing pivot to a pure play CDMO has the potential to generate long term shareholder value. We believe that little of this potential is priced into the shares

- A solid Q1 showed good growth and improving profitability across all areas of the business – shares drifted down through the period
- Our key focus remains the expected launch of the major new product BMK08 later this year. We see this as a material value driver for the group, which alongside a COVID recovery and improving conditions in the shrimp market, has the potential to drive an inflection in earnings

Top portfolio holdings¹

- Top 10 holdings account for 70% of NAV
- Position in Clinigen increased through a period on weakness in share price
- Following strong performances, NCC and Volution were sold down during the quarter moving these investments out of the top 10
- Cash balance built during the period with profits taken from investments which have run well/ahead of expectations
- One new, initial position started during the period (outside of the top 10) with scope to grow as diligence progresses

Focused on our core sectors and core market cap range

Holding by sector ¹

Holding by market cap ¹

- Following movements in the period, healthcare is now the largest sector in the portfolio
- Profits taken from strongly performing TMT and Industrials positions during the quarter
- Net cash balance of c.11% - towards the higher end of target range
- 63% of invested exposure in core target market cap range of £100m-£1bn
- Growth in % of NAV in companies over £1bn market cap driven by strong performance in certain names (a couple of which fell just over this threshold at period end)

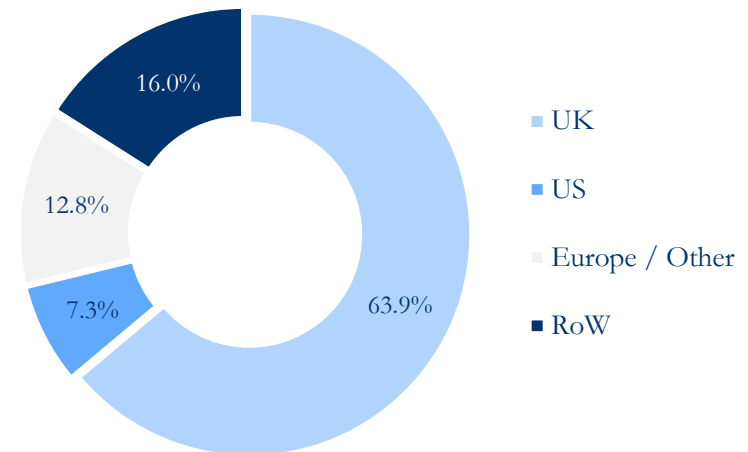

Portfolio has higher proportion of international earnings than the FTSE Small Cap

Revenue exposure of portfolio^{1,2}
(NAV weighted exc. cash)

Revenue exposure of FTSE Small Cap Index³
(% sales)

- Portfolio revenue generation is balanced by geographic area, which we believe spreads political risk
- OIT's portfolio overweight international revenues and underweight UK vs FTSE Small Cap
- Little change in underlying FX exposure during quarter

 - Attractive cash generation track record
 - Strong management team delivering successful M&A
 - Rating below building materials peers and our view of fair value

Technology change can create significant shareholder value

We seek out situations where systems are being upgraded and introduced

- Risk management of technology change at corporates is much improved in last decade
- Market leaders can afford to invest in the best systems to capitalise on and maintain their market leadership/superior economics
- Benefits often take 2-3 years to flow through to financial performance -> ideal for long term investors

Outlook & Data

Outlook

Despite the healthy recovery in the NAV post March 2020 we still see good long-term upside

Overall market conditions

- UK market has lagged international peers for some time
- Despite this, virus driven market and individual stock volatility is likely to be high in the short-term. This may lead to more pricing anomalies, which we hope to exploit

Opportunities & reasons to be positive

- UK vaccine success supports economic reopening, with significant pent up savings a sharp economic recovery is possible
- Accommodative fiscal and monetary policy likely to continue for now. Financial repression remains the least worst solution?
- Borrowing remains cheap for corporates and governments
- Portfolio has blend of COVID recovery potential and self help, but we believe is reasonably priced
- M&A returning – potential for our portfolio to be an ongoing beneficiary of this

Risks & reasons to be cautious

- Uncertain medium & long term changes to economy and consumer buying patterns in a post COVID world
- EU's challenged vaccine programme risks a slower recovery as well as political and economic instability in the Eurozone
- Equity markets, especially highly rated growth stocks, are expensive and dependent on both continuing recovery as well as monetary policy remaining extremely benign. Continued rises in bond yields (i.e. “risk-free rate”) may lead to a re-pricing of equities

Ceteris paribus, there seems more value among full list companies

We avoid highly rated “IHT business asset relief favourites” trading on AIM

Forward NTM p/e multiple by FTSE Index¹

FTSE AIM premium to FTSE Small Cap Index¹

- Sentiment towards UK Small and Mid Cap equities is transformed compared with a year ago
- Ratings leave little room for disappointment

¹As at 1 April 2021. Source Peel Hunt. Only includes positive earning companies

Retail, Travel & Leisure appear to have driven the market in Q1

Our investment strategy has no exposure to these sectors

- Our investment strategy does not focus on the discretionary consumer sectors of Retail, Travel & Leisure
- These sectors in aggregate were only a marginal tailwind to OIT's relative performance in FY 2020 but have been a more material headwind in Q1 2021
- In Q1 2021, the Retail, Travel and Leisure sectors contributed almost 1/3 of the Comparator return, despite accounting for 11% of the Comparator Index at the beginning of January 2021

Travel and Leisure sector ratings seem to be full

Pricing in recovery/anticipation of material medium and long term upgrades

Travel and Leisure sector average EV/sales ratings¹

Travel and Leisure sector average EV/EBIT ratings¹

- The Travel and Leisure sub-sector has been a significant contributor to market returns in recent months
- Positive sentiment on vaccine roll out and reopening have driven up shares, driving a re-rating of the sector on recovery multiples
- Shares in this sub-sector now seem to be fully pricing in a recovery/upgrades - ratings based on the third unreported period (FY3 – commonly 2023) are currently above the average seen in the five years pre the pandemic
- Delivery and upgrades over the next 3 years against market expectations are required to justify ratings -> a lot is now priced in?

As at 8th April 2021. Notes: ¹Based on stocks included in Numis Smaller Companies Index Travel & Leisure sub-sector, ratio presented is median for stocks where data is available. All data based on Factset consensus. FY1 = first unreported year, FY2 = Second unreported year, FY3 = third unreported year. ² Five year average of next twelve months financial performance
